

Body Language, NLP & "Mind Reading"

- become a Sherlock Holmes

This educational course will teach you techniques to better understand psychological manipulation; a natural behaviour humans use more often times than not in order to achieve what they want. The course will give you an overview of micro & macro expressions, body gestures, eye movements, pulse, skin color and NLP (Neuro Linguistic Programming) etc. These are just a few of the elements we will dive into, which will ultimately make you a better communicator and even have the ability to manipulate the human brain. A psych course on feelings and emotions will also be covered in this section. The ability to read and understand human opinions is of big importance to this course and will further unravel the concept of mind reading.

The subconscious part of the brain plays a big role in this course, as we discuss the link between the subconscious and conscious part of your brain. We refer to this link as intuition or a more common phrase, 'the gut feeling'.

The educational course will then provide you with a bewildering demonstration from the speaker and course instructor, Rufus Wiena, where he will show you a step-by-step on how to tap into a persons brain by using a series of techniques from this course.

This Course will give you:

- A greater understanding of the personal safety zone, first impressions, and how to make any person like you, or almost...
- Knowledge of verbal and non-verbal techniques. The ability to redirect and take control over a conversation.
- Understanding of body language and its complexity.
